Comment: Loss of trees and increase in proximity and volume of traffic at this already very busy junction will decrease air quality even further (already exceeds EU pollution limits) and increase noise pollution. Widening one junction is likely to increase congestion elsewhere - for example at the Mortlake Green roundabout where there are already problems when the level crossing barriers are down. Any problems on the Upper Richmond road lead to build up of traffic on Mortlake High Street - this will just be exacerbated by more traffic. Any changes should consider the whole flow of traffic in the area and impact on all residents and businesses not be piecemeal just to service this development. The focus should be on reducing traffic, not facilitating increase. Also, planting trees and increasing green space - not reduction.
