Comment: The reconfiguration of Chalkers Corner will nicely allow for more traffic to flow into Lower Richmond Road adding to the bottleneck that all ready regularly exists, along this road and leading to the roundabout before the railway crossing and Sheen Lane. This alteration is entirely inadequate when you consider he 800 plus more residential units that are proposed to construct.

This highway alteration does not address the much wider impacts of traffic flow in the whole of East Sheen and Mortlake.

In addition when there are yet more trains for all these extra residents, won't there be a need to have the railway crossing gates down for longer allowing for more traffic to build up in all directions.

I also object to the loss of trees and green space in the Chalkers Corner. This environmental harm will have a high impact on the amenity of the occupiers of Chertsey Court. There will even higher levels of pollution in an area where the levels of pollution are already too high.
