Comment: I'm mainly concerned by the density of the development in relation to the overall space available which will cause issues with parking (not enough), traffic (serious increase), and pollution.
I'm not against having houses built but it seems far too packed.

Having a 5 storey building seems too high and at odds with nearby houses, 3 or 4 max would blend much better.

I also regret the community space is so tiny for that amount of houses and that there's no link to the crane footpaths (such link would be of great benefit to local residents).
