Comment: The changes proposed for this application have made no difference to the views of the majority of local residents. The scale of this development is ridiculous. The local infrastructure of roads, rail and amenities cannot cope with the number of dwellings proposed (439+224+150=813 in total). The size of the proposed buildings (3 to 8 stories) is also unacceptable in an area where 4 and 5 stories is the current maximum. The current closure of Hammersmith Bridge has resulted in serious traffic issues which is adversely affecting the environment in Mortlake already. This is a fantastic opportunity to create a site that is world beating and provides an environment that is enjoyed by all, rather than an area of crowded buildings and dark gloomy streets. The developers need to exhibit a sensible approach to this development which understands the concerns of the existing residents, rather than an apparent disregard for the environment that we live in.
