Comment: I support a development in principle, including with affordable housing. However yet again Notting Hill Genesis have failed to consult with the local community and have come up with a scheme that is too high at five storeys and therefore will tower over houses and flats surrounding it. It is not therefore in keeping with the local area or considerate of it. It is too dense and too close to neighbouring properties such that many will suffer a serious loss of privacy and light.

Also, as an aside I still have serious concerns about how construction traffic and increased residential traffic will operate safely to ensure Windmill Road is safe (we already have issues with speeding and the volume of traffic since the Burtons Road restrictions). There is a school on Windmill Road and it is a route for many nursery children and even now it is unsafe, so the increased traffic and constructions vehicles will make it much worse and increase the risk of a fatal accident.
