Comment: In addition to the comments I have previously made I would like to add that I fully support and endorse the latest submissions made by the Mortlake and East Sheen Society and would wish you to consider their comments in addition to my comments.

In particular I think it is very important that very careful consideration is given to the latest forecasts and information on likely future pupil numbers. It seems very unlikely that by the time any development is completed the numbers of pupils will justify another secondary school in the area and if the numbers fall too low in a secondary school the quality and range of the education offered will almost certainly suffer.
