Comment: Once again NHG have submitted the proposal at a time when people are on half term holiday and may not have time to voice their objections. This company is being very sneaky. Apart from reducing the height of a building on Windmill Road from 3 storeys to 2 their is very little (if any) change for the rest of the proposed development.. The reduction in the number of residential units might be useful if they retained the number of parking places.--which has always been completely insufficient Despite the London Mayor's brutal bulldozing through of his wishes people are not going to give up their cars and the parking spaces for those who will be living there, let alone any family / friends who might wish to visit, is completely inadequate. Don't get people started on the amount of excess litter that will just be dropped on the streets . NHG still want to persist with 4 and 5 storey blocks of flats (plus basement) which do NOT fit in in an area that mainly comprises period properties. Modern flats, large glass windows, balconies, cladding etc.etc do NOT GEL with 2/3 storey brick houses...really?. This design of this as it stands will never fit in within the area ..
