Comment: Kneller Hall is a beautiful historic building which has the chance to become a top- class school in the heart of Twickenham - if planning approval is given. If not, it's in danger of rotting away and blighting the whole area. Local residents would much rather a successful and thriving school than a crumbling ruin. I really hope the objections to the current plans can be resolved and a bright future for this important part of Twickenham's history can be secured.
