Comment: I live to the rear of this property and look out on a semi-derelict house. It has been covered in scaffolding and plastic sheeting which has come adrift and flaps noisily in the wind since before Christmas. It is imperative that this house is brought back into proper repair by a team of consultants and builders who are used to working on historic properties such as this. Close oversight by the Council of the works will be required to ensure that they are completed properly.
