Comment: These proposed AC units together with the acoustic coverings will further restrict access (for the purpose of renovation and maintenance to my side wall). Access between no 29 and no 31 is already minimal because of the side extension at no 31. ? Is there a legal width of space that should be left between the completed units and my side wall. The pitched roof will mean they are not seen from the front but they will be easily seen, together with the accompanying ironmongery, from my back garden and patio. I think the AC units should not have been permitted to be there at all.
