Comment: The last build on this property deviated from the original plans with the result of us having three white uPVC windows instead of two overlooking our back garden. Despite previously objecting that we would be overlooked for which planning rules exist to prevent, the council granted retrospective permission on the build. The council has no interest in maintaining the planning laws or at least not in relation to this specific property so I doubt my new comments have any real bearing.

For the record on this new extension, we will now lose light from the extension of the roof.
