Comments

Type of comment: Object to the proposal

Comment: Twickenham with its extensive riverside paths, flora & fauna is one of its kind and our Jubilee Gardens form a part of this remarkable setting. They should be well looked after and preserved instead of being turned into a mountain of bricks. There are way too many empty uninhabited flats & buildings around London, let alone all deserted business/retail premises we can currently see at High Street.

The planned development is out of scale and it would irreversibly destroy a very unique character of the whole area. It is pivotal for our wellbeing to preserve all existing nature reserves and green spaces, however small. The proposed "improvement" is soulless and so it feels only natural to object it.
