Type of comment: Object to the proposal

Comment: There is such an insignificant change to the previous proposals that all previous objections (including the Mayor of London) remain valid. The over-riding objection is the increase in traffic which will be generated adding to the severe pollution at Chalkers Corner which can only be ameliorated by an overpass or underpass. The congestion in the area is already intolerable, unhealthy and anti-environment. The proposal is contrary to our Human Rights to live peacefully and in an environmentally friendly environment. The scheme does nothing to add to the local community or amenity; it is purely based on greed.
