Comment: This revised application still appears to contain buildings of a height and density (a) significantly out of kilter to structures in the adjacent areas and (b) such as to overwhelm the already very constricted local transport infrastructure. Were the plans to include additional vehicle access at/along the whole of the river end of the site, that might conceivably help with traffic flow but as far as I can see, little or no realistic or practical thought appears to have been given to the additional burden of this development on this part of the borough.
